

The South-Carolina GAZETTE.

[Numb. 198.]

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1772.

CHARLES-TOWN: Printed by T. POWELL & Co. at the Printing-Office near the EXCHANGE.

Mr. POWELL,
WITH great Pleasure I read in the several Gazettes for last Week, that the Admonition which was given by the FIRE-MASTERS to the Inhabitants of this Place, cautioning them to guard against Accidents FROM FIRE, was wrote in such a positive and authoritative Style, as became conscientious Men, who are invested with full Power to put a Law in Execution, which is one of the most necessary ones to the Safety of this Community.—Hints were frequently been given to the same Purpose, by anonymous Writers, who meant well, but without Effect. This is the more surprising, as scarcely any Accident from Fire ever happened, but the Cause thereof was found to depend on the Carelessness of some one or other; mostly of the Masters, who do not keep a watchful Eye over their Servants, with Respect to the negligent Use they make of FIRE and CANDLES, at all Hours of the Night; and often, the latter being stuck up against the Rafters or Shingles, when the Negroes are going to sleep, where they are left, burning, to the immediate Danger of the Neighbourhood.—The Risk of FIRE happening from this Cause, might easily be obviated, by obliging those who build, to have their Kitchens and Out-Houses properly plastered, and allowing the Negroes broad flat Candlesticks, made of Tin (which would cost but little) to hold a small Bit of Candle, in order to light them to Bed.—Smoking TOBACCO ought also to be carefully forbidden; after Negroes retire to Rest; for, should Fire remain in the Pipe when they fall asleep, it might easily be communicated to the Bed-Cloaths, whence very dangerous Consequences may, and have, ensued.

It is to be suspected, that the Law for preventing Mischief happening FROM FIRE, has not granted sufficient Power to the worthy Gentlemen who are appointed to superintend at such Times; for really, the innocent and careful Inhabitants, are put to almost all the Expenses, in paying those who attend the Engines, and others who are most active on such alarming Occasions.—On the contrary, were the NEGLIGENT ONLY made accountable for the Charges that are thereby incurred, they would, probably, be more careful, for the Time to come. Is the payment of FIVE POUNDS (the Penalty for every Chimney that takes Fire) a sufficient Punishment for Defaulters in this Way? No, surely; not to say any Thing of the Terrors and Distress it causes to others, who are endangered by the Inattentiveness of those who, perhaps, have no Interest at Stake. On the whole, I would presume to advise, that if any Amendment be hereafter made in this Law, the Expence of the Engines, &c. attending at such Times, should be borne by the Person in whose House the Fire began.—By this Proposal it is not meant, that he should be made accountable for ALL Damages, when such Fire spreads Destruction far and wide: This would be out of any one Man's Power, were it ever so wealthy, in such a combustible Place as Charles-Town is. But it is most just, that so far as any Person's Abilities will reach, the Charges necessary for extinguishing a Fire, the Cause of which he contributed to, either by the bad Construction of his Chimnies, or his own or his Servant's Carelessness, should be paid by HIMSELF ALONE.

The FIRE-MASTERS Give NOTICE

THAT in Consequence of the great Neglect of many of the Inhabitants of Charles Town, in providing BUCKETS and LADDERS, keeping their CHIM-NIES SWEEP clean, and observing many other Directions required by the Laws now in Force; wherein the Safety and Interest of the whole Community are nearly concerned, they are determined to carry the said Laws strictly into Execution; and that none may plead Ignorance, the following EXTRACTS are now published for their Information, which the FIRE-MASTERS request all Persons concerned strictly to observe.
GABRIEL MANIGAULT,
GEORGE SHEED,
JOHN EDWARDS,
Fire Masters.
CHARLES-TOWN, October 1, 1772.

It is Enacted, That no Person or Persons whatsoever in Charles-Town, shall be permitted to keep any Straw or Hay in his, her, or their Dwelling-House, or Kitchen, or Out House, that is joining to his, her, or their Dwelling-House, on the Penalty of the Forfeiture of TEN POUNDS for every such Offence.

It is Enacted, That every Owner or Tenant of every Dwelling-House in Charles-Town, shall provide a Leather Bucket, of six Quarts at least, for every Fire-Hearth in such Dwelling-House, One-fourth Part of the Whole to be sent to the Managers of the Fire-Engines: They are also to provide one Ladder, of a convenient Length for each Dwelling-House.
Which Buckets and Ladders are to be always ready in Case of Fire, on Pain of forfeiting the Sum of TEN POUNDS; also a Penalty of THIRTY SHILLINGS, for every Bucket withheld, or refused in Time of Fire; and if any Buckets shall be lost at such Time, the Fire-Masters are to supply the Owners with others in the Room of them.

The Charge of providing Buckets and Ladders is to be borne and paid by the Landlords and Owners of Houses; but as the said Charges may be often paid by the Tenant in Possession, who is made liable, in Case of Neglect, it is lawful for such Tenant, to deduct so much out of the Rent as shall be from Time to Time expended in providing Buckets and Ladders.

It shall be lawful for the Fire-Masters to enter into the Houses,
Out-Houses, Stables, and Yards, of every Owner or Tenant, to inquire if they are provided with Buckets and Ladders; and also to view, search, and examine, if any Quantity of Hay, Straw, Pitch, Tar, Rosin, Turpentine, Oil, Tallow, sulphurous or combustible Matters are lodged in any Place within the same, which may be in Danger of taking Fire; and if they find there is Danger, it is lawful for them, after having admonished the Owner of such House or Houses, to remove such combustible Matter (in Case of refusing or neglecting to remove the same) at the Charge of the Owner. All Persons who shall suffer their Chimnies to take Fire, and blaze out at the Top, shall forfeit the Sum of FIVE POUNDS.

Upon any Alarm in the Night Time, every Inhabitant is to repair to the Place where the Fire is, with his Arms, under the Penalty of FORTY SHILLINGS, and shall lodge them in such Places, near the Fire, as shall be appointed by the Fire-Masters, and the Commandet of the Watch is to order a Party of the Watch to guard the same. All Goods and Effects removed are directed to be carried to the Place where the Arms are directed to be lodged and guarded. The Constables are to appear with their Staves, and assist in guarding the said Goods and Effects, till removed to some other Place of Safety, under the Penalty of FIVE POUNDS. Any Persons that embezzle any Goods or Effects, are to be pilloried, have their Ears cut off, and forfeit four Times the Value thereof.

The Fire Masters are empowered to command any Person or Persons whatever, to aid and assist in pulling down Houses of Buildings, for extinguishing of Fires, to the utmost of their Strength, Power, and Ability; and in Case of Refusal, if a White Person, he shall forfeit FIVE POUNDS, and if a Slave, he shall be publicly whipped. All Persons who shall do or execute any Thing in Obedience to the Fire-Masters, are indemnified against all Persons whatsoever.

Remarkable or considerable Services, in preventing or extinguishing Fires, are to be rewarded by the Fire-Masters, and in Case any Person shall be wounded, maimed, and disabled, in endeavouring to prevent or extinguish Fire, a reasonable Allowance, Maintenance, or Provision, will be made for such Persons.

The Masters or Managers of the Engines, may command any Person or Persons whatsoever, that shall be nearest at Hand, when any Fire breaks out, to aid and assist in conveying the Engine to the Place where the Fire shall be. A White Person refusing shall forfeit FORTY SHILLINGS, and a Slave to be publicly whipped. A Reward of FORTY SHILLINGS to every White Person, and TWENTY SHILLINGS to every Slave, to be paid to those who carry the first Engine to the Place where the Fire breaks out.

Mr. POWELL,

THE Liberty of the Press, is, unquestionably one of the most valuable Privileges a Free People can enjoy. By this Means they have Access to Sovereigns, can lay before them their Complaints, and solicit a Redress of Grievances; nay more, whenever the State requires it, can boldly address the King himself, and (as he can do no Wrong) represent to him any Error in the Conduct of his Ministers, point out its dangerous Tendency, and the Necessity of a speedy and effectual Amendment: Besides, it is confessedly a Vehicle of Instruction and Entertainment, and capable of producing many very useful and beneficial Emoluments to Society: But, when that Liberty is too far indulged; when, instead of giving wholesome Advice, the Press teems with Slandes and Abuse; when, instead of exhibiting Lessons of Utility and Improvement, 'tis prostituted to the Encouragement of Vice, and the Destruction of Virtue; then it loses all its Advantages, and may, with Propriety, be termed a Curse instead of a Blessing.

That this Blessing should be prostituted, certainly never was the Intention of the Legislators who first planned and urged the Necessity of it, nor of those who afterwards improved and extended it. Their Motives undoubtedly were laudable. They thought, by this Means, our Liberty would be made more perfect; our Properties, from having a Right to defend them, more secure; and our Lives, by thus being rendered independent, more happy and comfortable. The Scheme was charitable and judicious; and the Success it met with, in the Country where it was first planned, is one great Argument of the Benefits that might have been derived from it, had it never been debased from its original Purity and Virtue: But this, like all other great and public Blessings, from Enjoyment, became at last to be less esteemed; and Men imagined, that a Liberty of the Press gave them a Right to say and do as they pleased—to scandalize and defame whom they thought proper—to laugh at virtuous Actions, and to turn to Ridicule even Things sacred and divine. Hence it is, that immodest Ideas clothed in loose and profane Expressions; Scandal and Abuse, dressed up in all the Flowers of Rhetorick; and the most innocent Deeds, represented in Colours of the blackest Dye, have of late become the prevailing and most approved Modes of Writing; and that such have been, by many, esteemed to approach the nearest to true Wit and Humour, who have best succeeded in those infamous Methods. I make no Doubt that even the Writer of the Letter in your last Gazette, who subscribes "a Friend to Trade," has gained many Admirers on this single Account; yet the Candid, who can see something farther than "an Inch beyond their Nose," cannot but look on the ironical Reflections therein contained, as illiberal, mean, and unworthy the Pen of any Man that aspires to Generosity and Politeness.

I am by no Means a Politician, nor would I enter into a Dispute with any Man upon political Subjects, much less attempt to vindicate the Conduct of a Person whose Character and Proceedings I am an entire Stranger to: But, when we see Men in exalted Situations, attacked in Print, by Envy and Detraction on one Hand, and by Meanness and Ignorance on the other, it is the Duty of every Well-wisher to the Community, as far as in his Power, to undeceive the Public, and endeavour to point out and convince them on which Side their Censure and Abhorrence should fall.

Much may be alleged in Favour of every Man, be his Proceedings ever so blameable: Human Frailty is an Excuse for a Multitude of Errors; and the Circumstances and Inducements of Life apologize for many more. A Governor is not exempt from them; he is but a Man, a Mortal, and subject to the same Frailties and Imperfections as others below him; though, by Reason of his high Station, his Errors will be rendered more conspicuous, and consequently become Objects of much greater Scandal and Inspection. A Fault that in a common Man passes unnoticed, in a King, often, is not only observed, but most severely reprehended, in the public Prints, with all the Freedom and Raillery that the Spirit of Man is capable of.

I shall not, Mr. Powell, take up your Time, in examining into the three great Benefits that Writer supposes may result from the Burning of Powder here, nor attempt to invalidate any one of his Arguments; but content myself with the following Observation upon the whole of his Performance. If a Jumble of incoherent Absurdities, delivered in sounding and pompous Language—if Thoughts without Meaning, and expressed without Propriety—in short, if a Rhapsody of unintelligible Nonsense, may pass for Wit and Humour, and be termed good Writing—the Author of the Letter in Question, is undeniably entitled to the Reputation of a very accomplished Writer: But, as the Revers of this Description, in my humble Opinion, will always be an Author's characteristic Perfection, I sincerely wish, that, when he resumes his Pen, to adopt that honourable Profession, he may make Choice of a better Subject, and if he has an Inclination to be understood, display a more happy Genius in the Execution. ORESTES.

Charles-Town, September 28, 1772.

Mr. POWELL,

Please to insert, in your next Gazette, the inclosed ADVERTISEMENT; for which the Bearer will pay you.

Yours, &c.

N. M.

Left CHARLES-TOWN last MONDAY, MONSIEUR MACARONI,

Who, from an Advertisement in a late Paper, enquiring for LODGINGS at BEAUFORT, is supposed to be gone that Way. Whoever will give Information of the said Monsieur MACARONI, will be cordially thanked by his numerous Creditors.

N. B. An smelling Gait—foul Breath, and small Mercurial Globules issuing from his Gums, indicate the Animal, without further Description. October 7, 1772.

Mr. POWELL,

As you have postponed the Publication of my Letter dated August 25th, till now, please to suppress it, or place it in the Box among such Papers as you lay by, till you shall hear further from me.

In the mean Time, pray indulge me with a Place in your first Paper, for a few short Questions, viz.

Is it equitable, or sound Policy, to lay a burthenome Imposition upon Shipping, from which no one Benefit is to be derived?

Is not every Vessel entering any Port, &c. in this Province (those that are owned or built in it excepted) obliged, by a Law passed 24th of March 1743, "For raising a public Store of Gun-Powder, for the Defence of the Province of South-Carolina," to pay, in Proportion to its Burthen, Half a Pound of good Gold and serviceable Gun-Powder, or Two Shillings Currency Money in Lieu thereof (to which Ten Shillings Currency is equal) per Ton?

Is there a single Clause in that Act, to prevent the Waste of the Powder, or Misapplication of the Money, so collected; altho' Accounts are required to be kept, and rendered to the General Assembly, of the Powder and Money so raised?

The Preamble to that Act says, "Whereas it is absolutely necessary, for the future Security and Defence of this Province, that there should be a sufficient Store of Gun-Powder always in Readiness; We therefore humbly pray, &c."

All the People say, that no less than 4300 Pounds Weight of Gun-Powder have been drawn out of the public Magazine, to be fired at the North and South Bastions of this Town, Fort Johnson, and at Beaufort, during the three last Months, viz. 800 lb. in July, 1000 in August, and 500 in September, the Value of which must be at least £. 2650—which is thought a Sum sufficient to answer many more laudable Purposes.

But I say, if an Enemy should come upon you, are you otherwise provided to make a Defence becoming Englishmen? I am not an Admirer of your ironical "Friend to Trade"—I am a Friend to this Community, and wish, to see every Shilling of the Public-Money properly applied—as well as the true Intent and Meaning of every good Law complied with.

If there is no Necessity for continuing the Powder Duty, certainly the Act ought to be repealed, and the Owners of Shipping relieved from that Burthen. I am, Yours, &c. THE STRANGER.

OCTOBER 2, 1772.

Two short Questions more—and Farewell.

Is there an Act of Assembly of this Province in Force, for making a Canal of the Head of Broad-Street, and turning the Marsh there into a Common?—Why is the Canal not made, and the Marsh not turned into a Common?—If the Act vests the said Marsh in the Public for ever, for a Common, can a Grant of the same afterwards, to a Commissioner, legally pass?

"Notwithstanding the Distance [SEVENTY-FIVE MILES] of the Town of Beaufort, Port-Royal, from this, which has been the established Seat of Government from the first Settlement thereof; whence none of the Public Offices can be removed; and where all the Public Records are lodged; and notwithstanding also, the Risk which every Man is exposed to, who leaves Charles-Town to go into the Country at this Season of the Year, of losing his Health; all our late elected Representatives are gone, either by Sea, Inland, or over Land, to attend the Service of their Country, agreeable to His Excellency the Governor's Will and Pleasure, at Beaufort aforesaid; this being the Day on which the Writs are made returnable at the Court-House there.—No Measure of any Governor was ever more freely and generally condemned; but we ought not to doubt that His Excellency had most weighty Reasons for adopting it."

His Excellency the Right Honourable Lord Charles-Greville Montague, our Governor, set out last Monday, in an open Boat, to go Inland, and open the General Assembly at Beaufort.

The Leeward Charibbee Islands felt a very severe Storm, on the 28th of August last, in which many Vessels were driven ashore at St. Kitts, Antigua, St. Eustatia, &c. and considerable other Damage was done. But, on the 31st of the same Month, the same Islands were visited with the most general, violent and destructive Hurricane that ever was known; the Damage sustained by which almost surpasses Credibility.—Antigua, St. Christophers, St. Croix, St. Eustatia, and Saba, are the Islands that have suffered most.—We should have been glad to give our Readers such Particulars as have been received, but could not obtain the only Prints that contained any, in Time; therefore shall defer the Publication of them, till they can be got with more Accuracy.

On Thursday last, Mr. Richard Shubrick, eldest Son of Thomas Shubrick, Esq; was married to Miss Susannah Bulline, the amiable Daughter of Mr. Thomas Bulline, deceased, and an Heiress of great Merit and Fortune.

Last Monday put in here, the Sloop Three Marys, Captain Crawford, bound for Cape-Fear from Tobago; where the late Hurricane had not been felt. The Sloop Jamaica Packet, John Young, Master, of and for this Port, was to sail from thence the 23d of September. Captain Crawford has brought in Capt. Stephen Newman, of the Sloop Dobbs, of Cape-Fear, lost at St. Eustatius the 28th of August. Another Vessel, belonging to Cape-Fear, was lost at St. Kitts, the same Day, the Brig. Tryon, Capt. Maroon; all on board perished, except a Negro Boy. Capt. Crawford has also brought an Account of the Death of Governor Leybourne, at St. Vincent's, towards the End of August.

On the 30th of July, at Newington, near London, Dr. Elitha Poinsett, of this Town, was married to Miss Ann Roberts, only Daughter of Mr. William Roberts, Merchant.

Last Monday died (it is said, of a broken Heart) Mr. Newman Swallow, Merchant—an industrious but unfortunate Man, who has left a Widow with six small Children.

Last Tuesday died suddenly, at Sea, on board the Schooner Chance, Amos Bunting Master, coming from Cape-Fear, Mr. Isaac Waldron, one of the Branch Pilots for this Bar and Harbour, and a most useful Man.

Lately died at Philadelphia, Mr. Robert Randall, of John's Island in this Province, Planter.

MELCHIOR WERLY.

CHARLES-TOWN, OCTOBER 1, 1772.

AGREEABLE to the Directions of an Act of the General Assembly of this Province, intitled, "An ACT, to regulate the PRICE and ASSIZE of BREAD."

I HAVE enquired the Price of FLOUR, and find that imported from the Northern Colonies, to be six POUNDS and FIFTY SHILLINGS per Hundred lb. Weight, and Carolina Flour at FOUR POUNDS and FIFTY SHILLINGS (being both used by the Bakers); at which Price the HALF CROWN Loaves must weigh as follows:

OF NORTHWARD Flour.	OF CAROLINA Flour.
WHITE, 1 10 3	WHITE, 3 3 0
WHEATEN, 3 7 3	WHEATEN, 3 3 0
HOUSEHOLD, 3 5 0	HOUSEHOLD, 4 4 0

Of which all Bakers of Bread are required to take due Notice, GEORGE SNEED, Commissary-General.

SEVERAL Chimnies having taken Fire
 Since the late cool Weather set in, the FIRE MASTERS are sorry there should be so much Reason to censure the Inhabitants of this Town, for their shameful Inattention in a Matter which so greatly concerns the Properties, and, it may be, the Lives of the People here.—It is therefore hoped, that all Landlords as well as Masters of Families, will immediately have their Chimnies well cleaned of Soot, and take Care that they be carefully swept, ONCE every Fortnight, or Three Weeks at farthest; for no Excuse will be accepted in Abatement of the Penalty which the Law has imposed against all Defaulters in this Way. Moreover, it is expected, and will be insisted on, that all those Chimnies, the Vents of which are so narrow, as not to admit a Sweeper, should be pulled down, and properly rebuilt.

Were People to consider, how little Engines can avail in Case a Fire should happen when the Wind is high, they certainly would be careful to prevent Accidents of this Sort, as far as might be in their Power; for even allowing they had little or no Property of their own to lose, yet the Duty they owe to their Neighbour, and the Community in general, ought to induce them to guard against such distressing Casualties, whereby Numbers might be involved in Ruin.—Further, Joiners, House-Carpenters, Cabinet-Makers, and others who work in Wood, are hereby cautioned to clear their Shops of Shavings every Evening, and not to allow any Person to work either by Fire or Candle Light, after Dark; for this Town has been often endangered by these Means, and almost one Half of it was consumed even in the Middle of the Day, within our own Memory, by making a Fire too near Shavings and other very combustible Materials.

On BEAUTY.

NO sooner had Jove sent down Beauty, his daughter, to dwell among mankind, than every one was charmed with her appearance, and courted her to reside with himself. Wherever she appeared, crowds crowded around her, and happy was that person thought whom she deigned to honour with her presence; but though Beauty ever intended well from her first acquaintance, and almost always fought the best minds for her intimates, and though to amiable a guest should have inspired those with reverence for her, whose tenement she chose to abide, yet so it happened, that there was scarce one who obtained her, that she was not soon offended at, and forced by degrees to break off with, and retire in disgust. Various were the causes of these disagreements, but the following chief. You must know, Beauty had three enemies, who perpetually persecuted her, and made use of all their address and management to expel her from every body's intimacy, she happened to fix upon. Their names were Vanity, Luxury, and Pleasure. The better to accomplish their design, they always feigned themselves to be the friends of Beauty, with the person from whom they intended to drive her. Now, though Beauty did not entirely neglect the male, yet her own sex were the more immediate objects of her regard, and they were those whom the foes above-mentioned used therefore more particularly to beset. Of all beings in the universe, none were greater lovers of simplicity, in dress and manners, than Beauty, nor was there any one whom it better sat upon; this, Vanity was continually denying to every possessor of Beauty, and generally her arguments prevailed to such a degree, that the management of the latter, in regard to the aforesaid articles, was put into her hands; in consequence of which, instead of an elegant neatness of apparel, Beauty was disfigured with ten thousand fopperies and absurdities; her fine hair was whitened over with dust, till it had quite lost the native colour, and was frizzled and tortured into various grotesque and laboured regulations, her skin was daily smeared over with noisome medicaments, under pretence of making her still more engaging, till half poisoned, the delicacy of her constitution being no longer able to suit in such usage, Beauty would quit her habitation, and fly to other quarters for refuge. But the machinations of Vanity were not bounded to these alone, for when Beauty was once thoroughly committed into her power, she would be continually twisting and wreathing her into unnatural and off-hand attitudes; she would surround her fine turned limbs sometimes with strange unwieldy circumstances of white bone, till she was almost lost and smothered in her very cloathing; at other times would pinch and squeeze her waist in such a terrible manner, that she was often forced, with distorted looks, to fly for ever from her habitation. Yet such was the infatuation of Beauty's favourites in general, that the worse Vanity used Beauty, the more the former was indulged and apalled to. But if Vanity was a subtle treacherous ruiner and defamer of Beauty, Luxury, with her attendant, Disease, was no less an insidious seducer; Beauty never enjoyed so much health and vigour as when the ear and drank plainly and moderately, used the free exercise of her own limbs, and took the rest of labour, yet Luxury had most commonly the address to represent things in a different light, where Beauty sojourned; and would put her friend, under pretence of consulting the well being and happiness of the fair guest, upon feasting her with high and variously compounded dishes, hurrying her to incessant late sitting parties of gamblers and female rakes, robbing her of natural motion, by the involuntary one of a vehicle, and destroying her complexion and symmetry of countenance, by the range of passions kept alive by play, and by habitual feebleness brought on by indulgence. I need not assure you, Beauty could be no long inhabitant here, but soon escapes from the face of Luxury and Disease. Pleasure, the enemy of Beauty, still remaining to be spoken of, was yet more pernicious than the two former, in as much as the was often aided and abetted by one or both of them, in the prosecution of her destructive and delusive schemes. Pleasure had a most infernal heart; under the mask of the greatest softness and tender concern for her ease and satisfaction that can be imagined, she would lead the unwary victim, with whom Beauty resided, into the deepest misery and desolation, would strip her of every friend, and every benefactor, and leave her at last to Death and Despair. But long before this you may suppose Beauty would be gone, though not without having first received the utmost abuse and indignity, and after being exposed and ill treated by every the most base and paltry villain.

Hear me ye sons and daughters of mortality, at the command of Jove I descended from the skies to kindle love, admiration, and joy; to diffuse the most innocent and ravishing sensations throughout mankind, I say innocent, for all vice is hateful to my temper, my eye pines at the sight of it, I infinitely withdraw from the creature that harbours it, though, before, the most select of my favourites. Tell me, has the happy intention I came to execute, been answered? Are you rendered those blissful tenants of the world, by the power of my charms, that I wished you should? If you are, why is your benefactor so unfairly used, so cruelly treated? Why will almost every human form on whom I have delighted to shed my benignant influences, still persist to entertain beings who are by nature my most implacable adversaries; whose fancies can never dwell with mine? O fools, are ye not yet, by such innumerable examples, convinced, that they abuse me? Why will ye suffer them still to impose upon you, and make you believe, friendship between them and me is compatible? They will know, if I say, they must be banished, and therefore cling about you and flatter you to destruction. Ye careless, inattentive mortals, how perversely do you court the shadow, and neglect the substance. There stands one among you, whom you seldom see, and seldom regard, my defender and patron, whose image I am, though far inferior; would ye but make yourselves acquainted with her, and study to conform to her dispositions, I should never entirely forsake you. In her company I alone can be safe and lasting; her name is Mental Beauty, from her I derived my natural lustre and force to think and reason, which, without her, must be exposed to the ravages of passion and guilt. She is the blooming beauty of immortality, whose cheek never fades, nor eye grows dim; that feels no decay from time, but will flourish and improve to eternity. Pay her your assiduous homage, and you will take the most efficacious means to preserve every mark of kindness you have received from me. But if you continue to overlook this Heaven-born power, and to hold injurious discourse with vice and immorality, fighting all my reason, I shall be provoked to make my appearance more frequently among you. Why will ye compel me to shun the human race, and to pour out my treasures chiefly upon the inanimate and irrational. My highest gratification is to be joined with sensibility, but it must be a virtuous one, or I sicken and vanish. Shall I, who draw birth from the graces of Heaven, belong made a pander to the vices of Hell? Was it for this end, that Jupiter dispatched me from the sky, to deck the variegated world with shape and colour, only that it might smart under the keener edge of misery; mistaken were I know, that the use you have made of me, shall be accounted for, and punishment exacted not only for the calamities a misapplication of my gifts has occasioned, but also for the deficiency in that sum of happiness, which, but for your encouragement of levity and debauchery, might have been full and complete."

A PROPHECY.

WHEN in England you see
(Which the Scotch will may be)
A Scotch Admiral commanding her Fleet,
A Scotch General commanding her Army,
A Scotch Lord Chief Justice of the King's Bench,
And
A Scotch Banker commanding her Cash,
'Tis then the Scotch will all combine
To throw out George's pious Line,
And bring in the Pretender.

PHILO-SCOTUS.

Charles-Town, July 14, 1772.

THE Subscriber is much obliged to his planting friends, who, by landing their Crops at his Wharf for three Years past, have thereby introduced it to Business. He acted as Factor during that Time, purely to prevent his Friends being Sufferers by their intended Kindness to him, as it was very industriously insinuated, that Rice would not sell at his Wharf. But as he is now well convinced, and flatters himself all his Friends are fully so too, that their Crops, landed in large or small Parcels, will sell altogether as well at his Wharf, as at any other in Charles-Town; and that any Gentlemen, principally concerned in the Factorage Way, will now have no Objection to receive and sell Rice or Indigo landed thereat: He therefore chooses to decline that Business, finding it more than he is able to go through. He hopes his good Friends will still land their Crops at his Wharf, where they may depend he shall take care himself that their Boats have all possible Dispatch.

As to the Safety and Conveniency of his Docks and Stores, he is sure there are none preferable to them in Town in those Respects, and few (if any) Barns in the Country are cooler and more secure from Fire; and it is almost impossible for a Barrel of Rice to be stolen in landing or shipping at his Wharf. Such Gentlemen as use his Wharf constantly, may depend on never wanting Storage whenever they do not like the going Price. No prudent Planter but must be convinced, that this is a Matter of the utmost Consequence to him, as many, for these three Years past, have had their Crops (when landed in Town) disposed of very much against their own Inclinations and Judgments, merely for Want of Storage; and this he is sure has been the Case, particularly this Year several Times, notwithstanding the Shortness of the Crop.

Messrs. GIBBES & HORT,

Who have had long Experience in the FACTORAGE BUSINESS in all its Branches, and confine themselves to that only, have taken the Charge of his Scales, and will transact their Business on his Wharf. To those Gentlemen he begs Leave to recommend such of his Friends who are not otherwise engaged.

Christopher Gadsden.

N. B. Any Gentlemen in Trade may depend on not wanting STORAGE for such Parcels of Rice as they purchase at his Wharf.

GIBBES & HORT,

ACQUAINT THEIR FRIENDS,

THAT THEY CONTINUE THE

Factorage Business in all its Branches,

(ON THE USUAL TERMS)

AND, for the Convenience of good Storage, will transact it on Captain GADSDEN'S WHARF; where they desire such of their Friends, as it may be agreeable to, will order the Goods they intend to favour them with, being convinced, that they will sell as well there, as at any other Place in CHARLES-TOWN. Constant Attendance will also be given at their other Counting-House on the Bay.

Their Friends will be supplied with proper Boats agreeable to their Orders; And they hope to merit a Continuance of their Favours, by a steady Attention to their Employers Interests, especially as they are determined to confine themselves to the Factorage Business only. And they assure their Friends, that they are not in any Way interested in Captain GADSDEN'S Store; so that whenever they shall think it necessary to store for a better Market, it must be SOLELY with a View to their Friends Interests.

N. B. WANTED, to attend on the said Wharf, a Person well qualified and recommended.

To be SOLD at private Sale.

SEVERAL Chimnies having taken Fire
 Since the late cool Weather set in, the FIRE MASTERS are sorry there should be so much Reason to censure the Inhabitants of this Town, for their shameful Inattention in a Matter which so greatly concerns the Properties, and, it may be, the Lives of the People here.—It is therefore hoped, that all Landlords as well as Masters of Families, will immediately have their Chimnies well cleaned of Soot, and take Care that they be carefully swept, ONCE every Fortnight, or Three Weeks at farthest; for no Excuse will be accepted in Abatement of the Penalty which the Law has imposed against all Defaulters in this Way. Moreover, it is expected, and will be insisted on, that all those Chimnies, the Vents of which are so narrow, as not to admit a Sweeper, should be pulled down, and properly rebuilt.

Were People to consider, how little Engines can avail in Case a Fire should happen when the Wind is high, they certainly would be careful to prevent Accidents of this Sort, as far as might be in their Power; for even allowing they had little or no Property of their own to lose, yet the Duty they owe to their Neighbour, and the Community in general, ought to induce them to guard against such distressing Casualties, whereby Numbers might be involved in Ruin.—Further, Joiners, House-Carpenters, Cabinet-Makers, and others who work in Wood, are hereby cautioned to clear their Shops of Shavings every Evening, and not to allow any Person to work either by Fire or Candle Light, after Dark; for this Town has been often endangered by these Means, and almost one Half of it was consumed even in the Middle of the Day, within our own Memory, by making a Fire too near Shavings and other very combustible Materials.

On BEAUTY.

NO sooner had Jove sent down Beauty, his daughter, to dwell among mankind, than every one was charmed with her appearance, and courted her to reside with himself. Wherever she appeared, thousands crowded around her, and happy was that person thought whom she designed to honour with her presence; but though Beauty ever intended well from her first acquaintance, and almost always fought the best minds for her intimates, and though so amiable a guest should have inspired those with reverence for her, in whose tenement the choice to abide, yet so it happened, that there was scarce one who obtained her, that she was not soon offended at, and forced by degrees to break off with, and retire in disgust. Various were the causes of these disaffections, but the following chief. You must know, Beauty had three enemies, who perpetually persecuted her, and made use of all their address and management to expel her from every body's intimacy, she happened to fix upon. Their names were Vanity, Luxury, and Pleasure. The better to accomplish their design, they always feigned themselves to be the friends of Beauty, with the person from whom they intended to drive her. Now, though Beauty did not entirely neglect the male, yet her own sex were the more immediate objects of her regard, and they were those whom the foes above-mentioned attacked therefore more particularly to beset. Of all beings in the universe, none were greater lovers of simplicity, in dress and manners, than Beauty, nor was there any one whom it better sat upon; this, Vanity was continually denying to every possessor of Beauty, and generally her arguments prevailed to such a degree, that the management of the latter, in regard to the aforesaid articles, was put into her hands; in consequence of which, instead of an elegant neatness of apparel, Beauty was disfigured with ten thousand fopperies and absurdities; her fine hair was whitened over with dirt, till it had quite lost the native colour, and was frizzled and tortured into various grotesque and laboured regulations, her skin was daily smeared over with noisome medicaments, under pretence of making her still more engaging, till half poisoned, the delicacy of her constitution being no longer able to suit in such usage, Beauty would quit her habitation, and fly to other quarters for refuge. But the machinations of Vanity were not bounded to these alone, for when Beauty was once thoroughly committed into her power, she would be continually twisting and wrenching her into unnatural and off-hand attitudes; she would surround her fine turned limbs sometimes with strange unweildly circumferences of white bone, till she was almost lost and smothered in her very clothing; at other times would pinch and squeeze her waist in such a terrible manner, that she was often forced, with distorted looks, to fly for ever from her habitation. Yet such was the insatiation of Beauty's favourites in general, that the worse Vanity used Beauty, the more the former was indulged and applied to. But if Vanity was a subtle treacherous ruiner and destroyer of Beauty, Luxury, with her attendant, Diffidence, was no less an infamous seducer; Beauty never enjoyed so much health and vigour as when she eat and drank plainly and moderately, used the free exercise of her own limbs, and took the rest of labour, yet Luxury had most commonly the address to represent things in a different light, where Beauty sojourned; and would put her friend, under pretence of consulting the well being and happiness of the fair guest, upon feasting her with high and variously compounded dishes, hurrying her to incessant late sitting parties of gamblers and female rakes, robbing her of natural motion, by the involuntary use of a vehicle, and destroying her complexion and symmetry of countenance, by the range of passions kept alive by play, and by habitual feebleness brought on by indulgence. I need not assure you, Beauty could be no long inhabitant here, but soon escapes from the face of Luxury and Diffidence. Pleasure, the enemy of Beauty, still remaining to be spoken of, was yet more pernicious than the two former, in as much as she was often aided and abetted by one or both of them, in the prosecution of her destructive and delusive schemes. Pleasure had a most infernal heart; under the mask of the greatest softness and tender concern for her ease and satisfaction that can be imagined, she would lead the unwary victim, with whom Beauty resided, into the deepest misery and desolation, would strip her of every friend, and every benefactor, and leave her at last to Death and Despair. But long before this you may suppose Beauty would be gone, though not without having first received the utmost abuse and indignity, and after being exposed and ill-treated by every the most base and paltry villain.

"Hear me ye sons and daughters of mortality, at the command of Jove I defended from the skies to kindle love, admiration, and joy; to diffuse the most innocent and ravurous sensations throughout mankind, I lay innocent, for all vice is hateful to my temper, my eye pines at the sight of it, I insensibly withdraw from the creature that harbours it, though, before, the most select of my favourites. Tell me—has the happy intention I came to execute, been answered? Are you rendered those blissful tenants of the world, by the power of my charms, that I wished you should? If you are, why is your benefactor so unfairly used, so cruelly treated? Why will almost every human form on whom I have delighted to shed my benignant influences, still persist to entertain beings who are by nature my most implacable adversaries; whose footsteps can never dwell with mine? O fools, are ye not yet, by such innumerable examples, convinced, that they abhor me? Why will ye suffer them still to impose upon you, and make you believe, friendship between them and me is compatible? They well know, if I stay, they must be banished, and therefore cling about you and flatter you to destruction. Ye careless, inattentive mortals, how perversely do you court the shadow, and neglect the substance. There stands one among you, whom you seldom see, and seldom regard, my defender and patron, whose image I am, though far inferior; would ye but make yourselves acquainted with her, and study to conform to her disposition, I should never entirely forsake you. In her company I alone can be safe and lasting; her name is Mental Beauty, from her I derive additional lustre and force to these attractions, which, without her, must be exposed to the ravages of perfidy and guile. She is the blooming beauty of immortality, whose cheek never fades, nor eye grows dim; that feels no decay from time, but will flourish and improve to eternity. Pay her your assiduous homage, and you will take the most efficacious means to preserve every mark of kindness you have received from me. But if you continue to overlook this Heaven-born power, and to hold injurious intercourse with vice and immorality, fighting all my reasonings, I shall be provoked to make my appearance more frequently among you. Why will ye compel me to turn the human race, and to pour out my treasures chiefly upon the inanimate and irrational. My highest gratification is to be joined with sensibility, but it must be a virtuous one, or I sicken and vanish. Shall I, who draw birth from the graces of Heaven, be long made a pander to the vices of Hell? Was it for this end, that Jupiter dispatched me from the sky, to deck the variegated world with shape and colour, only that it might smart under the keener edge of misery; mistaken wretches I know, that the use you have made of me, must be accounted for, and punishment exacted not only for the calamities & misapplication of my gifts has occasioned, but also for the deficiency in that sum of happiness, which, but for your encouragement of levity and debauchery, might have been full and complete."

A PROPHECY.

WHEN in England you see
(Which the Scotch will may be)
A Scotch Admiral commanding her Fleet,
A Scotch General commanding her Army,
A Scotch Lord Chief Justice of the King's Bench,
And
A Scotch Banker commanding her Cash,
'Tis then the Scotch will all combine
To throw out George's pious Line,
And bring in the Pretender.

PHILO-SCOTUS.

Charles-Town, July 14, 1772.

THE Subscriber is much obliged to his planting Friends, who, by landing their Crops at his Wharf for three Years past, have thereby introduced it to Business.—He acted as Factor during that Time, purely to prevent his Friends being Sufferers by their intended Kindness to him, as it was very indelicately insinuated, that Rice would not sell at his Wharf: But as he is now well convinced, and flatters himself all his Friends are fully so too, that their Crops, landed in large or small Parcels, will sell altogether as well at his Wharf, as at any other in Charles-Town; and that any Gentlemen, principally concerned in the Factorage Way, will now have no Objection to receive and sell Rice or Indico landed thereat: He therefore chooses to decline that Business, finding it more than he is able to go through. He hopes his good Friends will still land their Crops at his Wharf, where they may depend he shall take Care HIMSELF that their Boats have all possible Dispatch.

As to the Safety and Conveniency of his Docks and Stores, he is sure there are none preferable to them in Town in those Respects, and few (if any) Barns in the Country are cooler and more secure from Fire; and it is almost impossible for a Barrel of Rice to be stolen in landing or shipping at his Wharf. Such Gentlemen as use his Wharf constantly, may depend on never wanting Storage whenever they do not like the going Price:—No prudent Planter but must be convinced, that this is a Matter of the utmost Consequence to him, as many, for these three Years past, have had their Crops (when landed in Town) disposed of very much against their own Inclinations and Judgments, merely for Want of Storage; and this he is sure has been the Case, particularly this Year several Times, notwithstanding the shortness of the Crop.

Messrs. GIBBES & HORT,

Who have had long Experience in the FACTORAGE BUSINESS in all its Branches, and confine themselves to that only, have taken the Charge of his Scales, and will transact their Business on his Wharf.—To these Gentlemen he begs Leave to recommend such of his Friends who are not otherwise engaged.

Christopher Gadsden.

N. B. Any Gentlemen in Trade may depend on not wanting STORAGE for such Parcels of Rice as they purchase at his Wharf.

GIBBES & HORT,

ACQUAINT THEIR FRIENDS,

THAT THEY CONTINUE THE

Factorage Business in all its Branches,

(ON THE USUAL TERMS)

AND, for the Convenience of good Storage, will transact it on Captain GADSDEN'S WHARF; where they desire such of their Friends, as it may be agreeable to, will order the Goods they intend to favour them with, being convinced, that they will sell as well there, as at any other Place in CHARLES-TOWN.—Constant Attendance will also be given at their other 'Compting-House on the BAY.

Their Friends will be supplied with proper Boats agreeable to their Orders: And they hope to merit a Continuance of their Favours, by a steady Attention to their Employers Interest, especially as they are determined to confine themselves to the Factorage Business only.—And they assure their Friends, that they are not in any Wise interested in Captain GADSDEN'S Stores; so that whenever they shall think it necessary to store for a better Market, it must be SOLELY with a View to their Friends Interest.

N. B. WANTED, to attend on the said Wharf, a Person well qualified and recommended.

To be SOLD at private Sale.

O F

His Excellency the Right Honourable Lord
CHARLES-GREVILLE MONTAGU,

Captain-General, Governor, and Commander in Chief, in and over His Majesty's Province of SOUTH-CAROLINA, Vice-Admiral of the same, &c.

Delivered at the Opening of the GENERAL ASSEMBLY of the said Province, at Beaufort,
Port-Royal, near SEVENTY-FIVE Miles from the Capital, on Saturday the 10th of October, 1772.

Honourable Gentlemen,

Mr. Speaker,

And Gentlemen of the Commons House of Assembly,

Y constant Attention to preserve the Laws of this Province from Violation, was the only Cause of my calling the General Assembly at this Time. My Knowledge of the Situation of Affairs in this Country, and of her real Interests, and my ardent Wishes to promote them, induced me to summon this General Assembly to meet in this Town. I have exercised, and shall continue to exercise the Royal Prerogative, in such a Manner, as, in my Opinion, may promote His Majesty's Service, and the general Advantage of the People over whom I have the Honour to preside: And while I am cautious, in the most extreme Degree, that I do not violate the Laws, I shall be perfectly satisfied with my Conduct, so long as I exercise such Powers only, as are constitutional.—Such I shall always exercise with the best Intentions, and with a corresponding Firmness.

A long Space of Time having elapsed, since the Inhabitants of this Province have received Benefit from the Deliberations of a Commons House of Assembly, many salutary Laws have expired, and others are near expiring, which ought to be revived and continued; the People have not acquired such new Laws as recent Circumstances have rendered necessary; and the Public Creditors, for Years past, are yet unpaid their just Demands. I wish the Commons House of Assembly may remember, that a Delay of Justice is a Denial of Justice.

Being sensible of the only Cause of the late Public Dissentions, and of the Inconveniences and Distress with which this Province is loaded; I cannot but most sincerely lament the distressed Situation of our Public Affairs: And, as there is not any Instance of a lawful House of Commons having ever appropriated, and caused Money to be issued for Public Services, of their sole Authority, and against the Consent of the other Branches of the Legislature, or even having at any Time claimed such a Power; so, upon the Principles of our Constitution, of Law, and of Reason, it cannot be allowed, that any Commons House of Assembly of this Province, can, or ought to have any such Power.

Careful as I am, not to invade the constitutional Rights of a Commons House of Assembly, it is my indispensable Duty, to endeavour to preserve, to each Branch of the Legislature, its native Powers of Legislation; and I do earnestly wish, that the weighty Affairs of this Province, may be deliberated upon, and transacted, with that truly patriotic Spirit, which can, with Magnanimity condemn and abandon any Measure that is an Alien to, incompatible with, and destructive of, the Rights and Powers of that Mode of Legislation, from which our own is modelled, and from which alone the People of this Province derive all their Liberties as English Subjects, and all those Rights, Privileges, and Powers of Legislation, which can be legally exercised by their Representatives in General Assembly.

By as much as you all prize and value the Rights of English Subjects—by so much let it be your Care to demonstrate, by Acts, which are of much more Consequence than Words, a due Veneration of that Form and Spirit of Government which has granted, and now regulates and preserves, those invaluable Privileges to the Inhabitants of this Province. As it is your Interest to preserve the English Spirit of Government, so it is your Interest to preserve to each Branch of the Legislature, such Powers as are peculiar or common to each. In this Case, the safest Means to preserve the Constitution, is to maintain each particular Part of it inviolate. Innovations are dangerous—they are, in general, sure to create Contentions; which, unhappily for Mankind, too often make quick Progress to Anarchy. Wherefore, let me recommend to you, in the strongest Terms, that you be careful to endeavour to annihilate any Innovation, which, by violating constitutional Privileges of Legislation, thereby evidently tends to destroy that happy Poise of Power which is the peculiar Characteristick and Palladium of Legislature, founded upon, and assimilated, as nearly as may be, to Principles of British Legislation; the constitutional Spirit of which is so admirably tempered and compounded, that nothing can endanger or hurt it, but Attempts and Innovations calculated to destroy the Equilibrium of Power between one Branch of the Legislature and the Rest.

The Commons House of Assembly claiming to issue Monies, for Public Services, of their sole Authority, has so alarming a Tendency, that it cannot be too anxiously guarded against. Such a Measure is evidently capable of destroying and overturning every fundamental Principle of that Constitution of Government, which is the Envy of admiring Nations: To persist in such an unconstitutional Claim, would be in Effect to declare a Design to acquire a Power, which is inconsistent with the English Constitution; a Measure which, in the natural Consequences of Things, is pregnant with the most formidable and certain Dangers, to the true Interests of the People of this Province; but, to annihilate an unconstitutional Claim, is most virtuous and most honourable. Such a Proceeding is the most infallible Criterion of a true Patriot, and a wise Senator. By such a Conduct, you will, in the most laudable Manner, discharge your Duty to your King, to your Country, and to yourselves. I am willing to hope for such a distinguishing Proof of true Patriotism from this Commons House of Assembly; such a Conduct will, of Course, render the Exercise of unusually exercised Prerogatives unnecessary, which, although to a few Persons, they may be displeasing Remedies, to operate against the Orders of the State, are not therefore the less legal or inadequate to effect their ultimate End, and the Good of the People.

At this, my first Meeting with this General Assembly, I chuse to deliver my Sentiments thus fully and candidly, upon a Point of so high Consequence, as the Preservation of our Legislative Powers in their native Force. With the best Intentions for the Public Service, I do recommend this most serious Subject to your most attentive Consideration. I shall, at all Times, give every Encouragement in my Power, to engage you to proceed to the Consideration of public Affairs, with that Temper, Candour, and Benevolence, which must naturally prevail in Public Deliberations, when the Public Good is truly understood, and is really meant to be promoted: And, as I have now some Reason to think, that the speedy Sitting of the General Assembly in CHARLES-TOWN, may induce such Deliberations; and I pledge myself to you, that at all Times, I shall exercise my Authority in such a Manner, as I may think will have a Tendency to induce such Deliberations as may be of Public Benefit; I do prorogue this General Assembly to the Twenty-second Day of this Instant, OCTOBER, to be then held at the usual Place in CHARLES-TOWN; and this General Assembly is accordingly prorogued.

At this, my first Meeting with this General Assembly, I chuse to deliver my Sentiments thus fully and candidly, upon a Point of so high Consequence, as the Preservation of our Legislative Powers in their native Force. With the best Intentions for the Public Service, I do recommend this most serious Subject to your most attentive Consideration. I shall, at all Times, give every Encouragement in my Power, to engage you to proceed to the Consideration of public Affairs, with that Temper, Candour, and Benevolence, which must naturally prevail in Public Deliberations; when the Public Good is truly understood, and is really meant to be promoted: And, as I have now some Reason to think, that the speedy Sitting of the General Assembly in CHARLES-TOWN, may induce such Deliberations; and I pledge myself to you, that at all Times, I shall exercise my Authority in such a Manner, as I may think will have a Tendency to induce such Deliberations as may be of Public Benefit; I do prorogue this General Assembly to the Twenty-second Day of this Instant, OCTOBER, to be then held at the usual Place in CHARLES-TOWN; and this General Assembly is accordingly prorogued.

BEAUFORT, } Charles-Greville Montagu.
